CNG OPENS LONDON OFFICE IN AFFILIATION WITH SEABY

We take great pleasure in announcing the opening of our London office. In affiliation with B.A. Seaby Ltd., we are opening in London as Seaby Coins, A Division of CNG, Inc. We are especially pleased to take this step in affiliation with the venerable numismatic publishing house of B.A. Seaby Ltd., with which we will share premises. The Classical Numismatic Review will now incorporate the Seaby Coin and Medal Bulletin, and we extend a warm welcome to all those Bulletin subscribers for whom this is their first issue of the Review.

We have exciting plans for our operation in London!

In London, as elsewhere, we will of course be an active buyer and seller of Greek, Roman, Judean, Byzantine, medieval, and British coins. We are particularly eager to buy, as we constantly need to replenish our stock. We will pay top prices for collections or good single coins. If you would like to see us in London, please phone to make an appointment.

As a service to the British -- and general European -- market, we will be displaying in London the coins for all our future mail and public auctions. We customarily have several viewings at different locations in the U.S., now, with the addition of viewing in London, an even larger number of bidders will have an opportunity to examine our auction coins firsthand. Our next sale will be a mail bid sale closing on June 5, 1991, and the London viewing dates will be announced in the catalogue.

We will be holding periodic public auctions in London. Our first London public sale will take place in October 1991 during COINEX week. We already have a nice consignment of Ancient and British coins. In addition, this sale will include an exceptional offering of numismatic reference books. We are accepting additional consignments. If you have been considering sale of all or part of your collection, we would be pleased to discuss a possible consignment. We offer our usual high quality catalogues, competitive terms, and prompt payment, now with the additional advantage of full exposure to both the European and American markets.

With permanent locations on two continents, we will be in a better position than ever to provide attentive personal service to all our customers. We stand ready to advise on prospective purchases, to find that particular rare piece to complete a collection, or to represent bidders in any of the major European or American auctions. We are pleased to offer our customers full access to the international market.

We hope you enjoy this edition of the Review. We have listed a wide variety of coins in all price ranges, including some interesting groups in the specials inside the back cover. For the budget-conscious collector, we have introduced a new budget section of less expensive coins.

For those of you awaiting word on Dr. Price's long-anticipated study of Alexander III, please see page three.

Making Plaster & Plastic Coin Casts

by
Douglas D. Smith

Numismatists often make plaster casts of their coins for study and display. European museums and collectors place such high value on these casts that they are preferred to photographs as a method of trading information about coins under study. Realism can be added to the plain white plaster by painting. Plaster, however, is fragile, and mailing casts requires careful packaging. A desire to produce coin replicas that would survive the rigors of the post office and possibly be usable in items of jewelry led to a series of experiments to find a material that would replace plaster as a casting medium.

Septimius Severus Denarius
Brush & leaf - Good colour match

Since the casting procedure for plaster and plastic casts is very similar, this description will cover both techniques. An impression is made by pressing the coin into a modeling clay-like material. The only recommended material for this use is "Plasticine," an English product sold in well-stocked toy or craft stores.¹ In addition to taking a clean impression, Plasticine contains no sulfur and will not affect the surface tone of silver coins. Other clays might damage your coins, so experiment on "expendable" subjects before trying good coins. Common sense would also suggest not trying this process on fragile, thin, cracked, or flaking surfaced coins. If you always handle your coins by the edges, this process is not for you.

Step by Step Instructions:

1. Make a ball of Plasticine slightly larger than the diameter of the coin. Work this with your hands until it is perfectly smooth and elastic. This process is made easier if the Plasticine is warmed by placing it in a cup of hot water or very close under a goose-neck lamp.
2. On a smooth piece of plain paper covering a perfectly smooth work surface press the ball to flatten the bottom side. This will produce a disk about twice the diameter of the coin and at least 1/2 inch thick. Too large and too thick are never problems. Inspect the bottom surface and if any cracks, pits, or irregularities are found, go back to step #1 and reroll a smooth, even ball. If the surface is perfect, lay the disk with the good side up on another clean piece of paper.
3. Dust the surface with baby powder and brush lightly with a finger to remove excess. A thin, even coating should remain.
4. Carefully place the coin face down in the center of the Plasticine and press evenly down with a finger (or thumb depending on the size of the coin) until the back of the coin is at or below the surface of the Plasticine. How deeply the coin is pressed will determine the thickness of the cast.
5. Turn over the disk and tap lightly over your cupped hand. Heavy coins will fall out easily, lighter coins may require more vigorous tapping. Very small coins can be a problem but by applying a little extra baby powder, using an oversize piece of Plasticine, and slightly flexing the "sandwich" before tapping,

Rhodes Didrachm

even hemiobols can be coax out of the mold. As a last resort, use a toothpick to encourage the edge of the coin out of the Plasticine.

6. Examine the coin. If there are any specks of Plasticine that tore away from the disk, start over. Otherwise, set the mold aside until you have made all the molds you intend to do in one session.

Plaster Casting:

1. If you choose to make traditional plaster casts, lightly spray the molds with a commercial spray to prevent air bubbles in plaster castings.² Blow into the mold to coat the surfaces evenly and shake to remove any surplus liquid.
2. Mix plaster (high-grade "dental" plaster works best but fine craft store plaster can be used) and water to form a paste with about the consistency of cake frosting. Never mix more than you can pour in a few minutes since this plaster starts to set up immediately. Four coin casts per mix is a safe place to start and can be increased as your expertise increases.
3. Using a small artist's brush (sizes 1 to 3 work well), carefully paint the inner surface of the mold with plaster, dislodging air bubbles as you proceed. Tapping the mold sharply on the table will also help eliminate bubbles. When all surfaces are covered, pour plaster to fill the remainder of the mold. Some workers skip the spray, the brush, and the tapping and just pour plaster, but perfect casts free from bubbles require care.
4. Allow to dry several hours until the plaster is hard and white. Wet plaster is slightly gray in color. Flex the mold and pry out the cast with a fingernail. Any surplus plaster can be trimmed away with a file or fingernail clippers. Plaster casts are very delicate until fully dry so handle carefully for at least 24 hours.

Plastic Casts:

Plastic casts can be made from two-part epoxy liquid polymers intended for embedding objects or coating table tops. It is important to select an epoxy mixed from two equal parts rather than one that requires a few drops of hardener in several ounces of resin. Mixing small quantities of the latter is impossible.³

1. In a small medicine cup, measure equal parts of epoxy resin and hardener sufficient to cast the number of molds you have prepared. Since the polymer coating material is clear, add a small amount of some form of colorant to produce the color casts you desire. Latex enamel paint works well and comes in several colors.⁴ Food coloring produces synthetic gemstones that are attractive for jewelry. Silver replicas can be produced with silver leaf paint but these never harden beyond a rubbery stage.⁵

Silver replicas are fine for mailing to numismatic correspondents but are not suitable for jewelry. Rit fabric dye, powdered chalk, baby powder, plastic, and latex enamel have all been tried with some success but each worker will want to experiment to find one that produces a favorite result.⁶ Failures can be painted with silver leaf paint and used for display. Embedded coins retain better detail than painted casts, especially on smaller coins. Stir very well. This material

ANNOUNCING AN IMPORTANT NEW WORK

MARTIN JESSOP PRICE

IN THE NAME OF
ALEXANDER THE GREAT AND
PHILIP ARRHIDAEUS:

A BRITISH MUSEUM CATALOGUE

Classical Numismatic Group, Inc. takes pleasure in announcing that it has been selected as the exclusive distributor for the Western Hemisphere for this long-awaited study.

This massive two-volume set, meticulously composed over a period of many years, is the most comprehensive study ever attempted on Alexander the Great. Dr. Price's work is bound to be the single standard reference for the foreseeable future.

The work will cover the entire coinage in all metals of Alexander the Great and his half brother and successor, Philip Arrhidaeus, as well as the coinage of Lysimachus issued with the types of Alexander. The catalogue will include not only lifetime issues, but also posthumous coinage of the same designs struck down to the first century BC.

An extensive introductory section will be dedicated to general themes, including selection of designs, periods of minting, analysis of hoards, and significance of countermarks. The catalogue itself, listing well over 4000 different types, will be arranged by mint. For each mint, a survey will treat the chronology, historical context, and attribution of the coinage. The 149 plates, with photographs of the extensive British Museum collection, will illustrate the catalogue. Indexes of the over 900 issue marks and monograms will enable easy identification of individual coins. Concordances are provided to the earlier catalogues of L. Muller (1855) and A. von Prokesch-Osten (1869 and 1871).

The entire press run for this major work will be limited to 1500 copies, of which just 500 are being reserved for the Western Hemisphere. Delivery is anticipated this summer. The Swiss Numismatic Society is the European Distributor, and Classical Numismatic Group, Inc. is the Western Hemisphere Distributor.

ORDERING INFORMATION

The anticipated price of this book is $325.00, subject to final price review in June. Order now, prior to publication, and requests will be honored in the order received. Send no payment now. You will be invoiced when the final price is determined. No postage will be charged for orders received before June 15, 1991. (This is a savings of about $10.00).

Dealers interested in stocking this work should contact our office at their earliest convenience. Priority will be given to dealers who have contacted us prior to June 15, 1991.

The Randazzo Hoard 1980 And Sicilian Chronology In The Early Fifth Century B.C.

By Carmen Arnold-Biucchi. (New York, The American Numismatic Society, 1990). Numismatic Studies No. 18. 77 pages, 20 plates, cloth bound. Available at $50.00.

This new work by Carmen Arnold-Biucchi, ANS Margaret Thompson Curator of Greek Coins, records 539 Sicilian tetradrachms said to be found near Randazzo, in northeastern Sicily at the base of Mount Etna. Based on the eight mints represented in the hoard, the reported site find of Randazzo may be accurate. Due to the nature of the hoard's dispersal, it is not certain whether the 539 catalogued tetradrachms form the complete "Randazzo Hoard" but they do probably form the largest part.

The hoard consisted of the following mints (the number of coins from each mint is given in parentheses): Rhegion (10), Akragas (8), Gela (29), Katane (29), Leontinoi (14), Messana (136), Naxos (5) and Syracuse (308). The five tetradrachms of Naxos, all from the single pair of dies known for this issue (struck in 461 BC), constitute the largest find of this rare type in recent years (see CNR, Vol. XV, No. 2, item no. 1 for a specimen sold by us last year). Herbert A. Cahn, in 1944, listed 56 known specimens, and Arnold-Biucchi estimates that the number has probably increased by at least 20 new specimens since Cahn's publication!

Importantly, Arnold-Biucchi's comparison of the "Randazzo" hoard with other early fifth century hoards supports the redating of the "Demareteion" dekadrachm to the end of Hieron's reign or circa 475-470 BC. This new reference work is part of the ANS' excellent Numismatic Studies series and is a must for every serious classical numismatist's reference library.

Our favorite recommendation to someone starting out in ancient or medieval coins or seeking a general overview. Well written by a team of experts under Martin Price at the British Museum. This book provides an accurate up-to-date survey of coins since the time of the Ancient Greeks.

Cribb, Cook & Carradice THE COIN ATLAS. The World of Coinage From its Origins to the Present Day. Hardbound. 33 pages. 100 plus maps, 1100 plus illustrations. A-Z listing by country outlining their numismatic history. Excellent value.....$39.95

Recently published. Written by members of the British Museum staff. This is the first work to present a country-by-country account of world coinage, from its beginnings in the 7th century BC to the present day. For breadth of coverage, this book is undoubtedly the most comprehensive history of coinage worldwide yet published.

Hoberman THE ART OF COINS AND THEIR PHOTOGRAPHY. Hardbound. 397 pages. Illustrated throughout. Now out of print - while supplies last.....$95.00

A must for the coin photographer. This book is a unique study of the aesthetic appeal of coins as communicated by photography. Dealing with the origins, artistic merits and symbolism of coin types, the techniques of coin making, role of coinage, debasement, and counterfeiting. The main section of the book transports us through 2,500 years of art and history with the finest numismatic photography. The fascination of the coins is enhanced by detailed descriptions and informative background, meticulously researched and appealing to both the layman and the expert alike. The latter part of the book contains the only definitive treatise on numismatic photography - simply explained.

GREEK

1. THRACO-MACEDONIAN TRIBES, Bisaltae. Circa 475-465 BC. AR Octodrachm (27.76 gm). ΒΙΣΑΛΤΙΚΟΝ, bridled horse walking right on double exergual line, superimposed on nude youth standing right, holding two spears / Quadripartite incuse. Cf. Svoronos pl. XI, 5-6. EF. Very Rare.

The extraordinary issue of octodrachms by the Bisaltae took place in the aftermath of the Greek victory over the Persian Empire. The Bisaltae apparently won control of the silver mines around Lake Prasias upon the Persian withdrawal, but the coinage was terminated within a decade or so, probably when Alexander I of Macedon took possession of the mines for himself. The massive octodrachms were no doubt struck to make large state payments, perhaps as tribute to Athens or the Delian League. For a price comparison, see NFA XX (1988), 659 ($21,000).

2. Macedon, Eion (?). Circa 480 B.C. AR drachm (3.92 gm). Eagle standing right, head turned left over back / Square incuse divided by diagonals into four parts. Traité II, I, 1721 = Svoronos (Hellenisme) p. 87, I. M&M 73 (1988), 158 (Attributed to Athens). EF. Extremely Rare.

This important piece is the third known example of this type. Babelon and Svoronos attributed the single specimen known to them to Eion in Macedon. When a second specimen was discovered, M&M attributed it to Athens as a previously unrecognized type of the Wappenmunzen series, primarily on the basis of the weight standard and the characteristic diagonally divided reverse incuse. We believe the coin is most likely from Eion, where this obverse design was a standard type.

3. PTOLEMAIC EGYPT, Ptolemy I. 323-283 BC. AR Tetradrachm (14.88 gm). Alexandria mint. Struck as King, c. 305-283 BC. Diademed head of Ptolemy I right, wearing aegis, tiny Δ (engraver's signature?) behind ear / ΠΤΟΛΕΜΑΙΟΥ ΒΑΣΙΛΕΥΣ, eagle standing three-quarters left on thunderbolt, monogram in left field. Svoronos 201, pl. vii, 26. SNG Copenhagen 48. Exceptionally expressive, well-modelled portrait. Superb EF with attractive even toning.

Ex NFA X (1981), 250. A masterpiece of early hellenistic portraiture. This piece, with its splendid portrait, sharp strike, perfect centering, and delicate toning, is the finest tetradrachm of Ptolemy I that we have seen.

ROMAN IMPERIAL

The representation of Spes (Hope) under Claudius is the first appearance on Roman coins of this interesting personification. One reason for Claudius' choice may lie in the fact that he was born on August 1, the day on which vows were regularly paid to Spes, but the main reference is probably to the birth of his son and heir, afterwards named Britannicus, in 41 AD. This is interesting as the first appearance of this dynastic type, which occurs repeatedly throughout the imperial series.

A splendid sestertius in every respect, well struck on a broad flan with a wonderful glossy patina. The depiction of the mature Nero represents the apogee of Roman numismatic portraiture. The beautiful and elaborate reverse composition illustrates the emperor's care for the corn supply of Rome: the ship suggests the sea-borne corn; the seated Ceres holds the place of honor, while Annona, the personified corn harvest, stands before her as an attendant spirit; and the modius between them completes the picture.

ENGLAND

6. ENGLAND, James I. 1603-1625. AV Spur Ryal of 15 Shillings (6.24 gm). Third Coinage. Mintmark: Spur Rowel. Struck 1619/20. IACOBVS D:G:MAG:BRIT:FRA:ET HI:REX, Crowned lion supporting royal shield and holding sceptre; X V at sides of shield / A DNO:FACTVM EST ISTVD ET EST MIRABI (This is the Lord's doing and it is marvelous in our eyes - Psalm cxviii, 23), Rose on spur rowel in center of royal cross. Seaby 2634; North 2109 (Very Rare). Superb EF on a full flan. Very Rare. Considered to be the finest known example.

English and Scottish coins display exceptional design work during the fifty eight years that James ruled first Scotland (1567-1603) and then Scotland and England (1603-1625). The design was adapted from an earlier Scottish issue, the lion noble (Seaby 5453), and is perhaps one of the most artistic coins in the normally repetitive hammered series.

James was the first British monarch to use the title MAG BRIT (Magnae Britanniae - 'King of Great Britain').

This short-lived design, a drastic departure from previous gold, found limited acceptance in trade due to its lack of familiarity.

SPECIALIZED WORKS ON GREEK COINAGE

Miller, CLASSICAL GREEK AND ROMAN COINS. The Investor's Handbook. Hardbound. 221 pages. Numerous illustrations. One person's examination of investing in ancient coins....$18.00

Miller explores the fascinating world of classical coins and their "impressive" investment performance. Written in the early eighties, the information is a little outdated. However, this book provides the new collector with some insights into the investment side of coin collecting. The best observation we found in Mr. Miller's book was his recognition that "a good working knowledge is an essential prerequisite to successful investment."

RARE TETRADRACHM OF ALEXANDER III

48. MACEDON, Kings of: Alexander III. 336-323 BC. AR Tetradrachm (17.12 gm). Aradus (?) mint. Head of Herakles right in lion skin, small B behind head / Zeus enthroned left holding eagle. Newell 3302. Superb EF. Very Rare....$1850.00

The small letter B, appearing on the obverse, represents a remarkable departure from the usual reverse placement of symbols on Alexander's coinage and has not yet been satisfactorily explained. It may represent a magistrate, an officina, or perhaps an engraver. To complicate this problematic issue further, the reverse monogram, construed by Newell as AP(Aradus) might also be construed as TAP (Tarsus). The B might then represent Bakros, Alexander's satrap at Tarsus.

GREEK IMPERIAL (Roman Provincial)

BOOKS

The books listed below are stocked on a regular basis and are available for immediate shipment. Order by author and title.

Sear, GREEK IMPERIAL COINS and Their Values. The Local Coinages of the Roman Empire. Hardbound. 636 pages. A listing of over 6000 provincial issues. Introduction, maps, history, values, inscriptions, index.....$80.00

This book is devoted to the local coinages of the Roman Empire spanning three centuries from Augustus to Diocletian. It includes over 600 mints from Spain to Mesopotamia. Also included are coins for independent contemporaneous states. This complex and fascinating field, once neglected, has become more popular in recent years. Even so, most Greek Imperials can still be bought at bargain prices considering their rarity. This book is the most valuable single reference.

Lindgren & Kovacs, ANCIENT BRONZE COINS OF ASIA MINOR AND THE LEVANT, From the Lindgren Collection. Hardbound. 212 pages, 135 plates. Completely illustrated listing of over 3300 Greek and Greek Imperial issues. Introduction, catalog, index, values.....$95.00

Excellent work for the specialist in Greek Imperial issues. Many rare coins are cataloged in this useful work.

Curtis, TETRADRACHMS OF ROMAN EGYPT. Hardbound. 425 pages. 1200 plus illustrations. Introduction, 2000 plus coins listed, rarities, index, history. This reprint has added 1200 illustrations taken from catalogues of Classical Numismatic Auctions Ltd., and other dealers. Also bound into this edition are two articles by Milne: The Lead Token-Coinage of Egypt Under the Romans and The Currency of Egypt in the Fifth Century.....$45.00

An outstanding contribution to the field of Alexandrian numismatics.

Milne, CATALOGUE OF ALEXANDRIAN COINS. Hardbound. 164 pages. 7 plates. Introduction, listing of over 5000 coins, index.$55.00

Long accepted as one of the standard references on Alexandrian (Roman Egyptian) coins.

P. Quintilius Varus acquired a reputation for corruption during his tenure as Roman legate for Syria, but that did not prevent him from being appointed Governor of Germany. In 9 AD he was ordered to put down a rebellion of Arminius a native chieftain. He led his army into an ambush in the Teutoberg forest, where his three legions were annihilated. This was one of the worst defeats ever suffered by the Roman army. Germany never again fell under Roman rule.

MAKING COIN CASTS

(Continued from Page 2) must be well mixed or it will not harden. Many bubbles will form but blowing on the surface of the mix will cause them to burst.

2. Do not use a commercial spray with plastic casts. As done with plaster, carefully brush the plastic mixture onto the surfaces of the mold. Remove bubbles by blowing into the mold or tapping firmly on a flat surface. Pour to finish filling the molds.

3. Allow to dry. Polymer materials set much more quickly at warm temperatures, so the results achieved in 5 hours at 90 degrees may take 48 hours at 60 degrees. Do not try to remove plastic casts until thoroughly dry.

4. Compared to plaster, plastic is difficult to separate from the Plasticine mold. Try scraping away remaining material using a toothpick. Soaking in very hot, soapy water and scrubbing with an old toothbrush will help. Hot water will make the casts soft and easier to clean. While the plastic is warm, trim any excess material with small scissors.

Plaster casts are simple, fun and attractive but not suitable for uses likely to encounter wear or hard knocks. Plastic casts are unbreakable, lightweight and variable in color with the imagination of their maker. Plastic casts are considerably more work but worth the effort for some uses. Both methods will provide something to keep at home while the coins are in the bank vault. Both can be framed into attractive wall displays. The choice depends on the intended use and personal preference.

Footnotes:

1. In the Washington, D.C. area, it is available at Toys-R-Us.
2. Such as "Airid" by Deep Flex Plastic Molds.
3. Good results are possible with "Enviro-tex Polymer Coating" which is sold by several D.C. area craft stores.
4. Use only the lighter colors of Plasticine if you choose to make white casts. Dark colors will transfer to white plastic.
5. Such as "Brush 'n Leaf" by American Art Clay Co.
6. The author would enjoy hearing from persons who try this process and find a favorite colorant. Send any letters to the author in care of CNG, Inc.
